ENGLISH DEPT STANDARD FOR UNPREPARED FINAL EXAM SPEAKERS

To arrive to class unprepared for a scheduled final exam speech is to willingly accept a grade of zero for the speaking assessment. NO MAKEUPS are to be granted to unprepared speakers. Should a student elect to be truant from class on the day that he/she is scheduled to present the final exam speech, teachers are asked to follow the Faculty Handbook which states: "a grade of zero will be recorded for missed quiz or test." The only accepted excuse is a legal excuse for one's absence on file in the attendance office that can be confirmed.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL REGARDING HEALTH AND SAFETY

The health, safety, and welfare of all students and staff are a priority at Horseheads High School. As Principal of the school, it is my job to ensure that we continually maintain a safe and secure learning environment. Many state and district policies and procedures such as routine fire drills, locked doors, and keeping the campus closed for lunch are already in place. All of these procedures are designed as preparedness or preventative measures. We want to ensure that everyone knows what to do in the event of an emergency and only those people who have legitimate reasons to be in a school building gain entrance. We expect all students to remain on campus unless they attend a BOCES program, participate in a school sponsored event, or have been issued a green card for a school approved excuse.

Given the state of the world we now live in, it is more important than ever to be prepared for events and emergencies that may not be predictable. It is the role of our Building Level Safety Team to plan and practice for potential threats to the health and safety of our students and staff. Our team is currently reviewing and revising our building level safety plans and continues to conduct annual drills such as fire drills, lockdown drills, evacuation drills, and table top drills to prepare us for potential emergencies. On two separate occasions this school year, our safety plans were put to the test. The first occurred when a house fire interrupted our normal school dismissal procedures and the other when a transformer fire at the Middle School required the students and staff to evacuate to the High School. Both emergencies were handled with professionalism and efficiency due to the time and effort put forth by our Building Level Safety Team in preparing and practicing for emergency situations.

Our Building Safety Team is committed to continuous improvement to ensure the safety of our students and staff. Planning for the unknown is a challenge but I believe it is what we have to do to ensure a safe and secure learning environment at Horseheads High School. Thank you for your continued support in helping to keep our students safe.

WINTER SPORTS SEASON UPDATE

It has been proven season after season, the Horseheads High School students lead the way in the classroom and on the playing field. At the Section Four Championships at Owego seven swimmers qualified for the finals including John Weachock, Tim Jerzak, Phil Patterson, Kutter Higley, Dylan George, Mike Klugo and Zach Toman, all representing our school in excellent fashion!

Our Cheerleading teams both JV and Varsity earned 1st place finishes at the SUNY Fredonia and Elmira College Cheerleading competitions! The girls improved throughout the season and cheered each week with class and poise at our home girls and boys' basketball games. Watching them perform their routines at halftime and during the games is fantastic! The execution, timing, and coordination of these athletes while performing their routines is quite amazing!

Congrats to all of our winter athletes for their efforts, energy and enthusiasm in each of your respective programs! Their standards of conduct are top shelf and it is a direct reflection of their coaches and parents. As a collective effort, we are representing our school district in fine fashion. Please know that your efforts are admired and are noticed. Stay focused and committed. "THANK YOU" for working hard to improve your craft and skills and it is pure pleasure to report on your progress this season. Thank you for being great! Mr. Williams!

SUMMER PROGRAMS

Is your son or daughter interested in participating in an academically based summer program on a college campus? The Guidance Office has current information on these types of summer programs at colleges throughout the United States for the summer of 2010. Even if your son or daughter has not considered this option, they might want to investigate. By participating in a summer program, your student can specialize in a particular area of their choice, meet other students their age throughout the country, and experience life on a college campus. For any students who would like more information, please stop by the Guidance Office to review the available brochures.

SCHEDULING

Counselors have been meeting with students regarding the selection of courses for the 2010-2011 academic school year. Course selection sheets are being sent home. If there are any changes to be made, a "Course Selection Change Sheet" must be completed and returned to the Guidance Office by June 25, 2010.

Between June 28th and July 31st requests for course changes must go through a petition process. After July 31st no changes will be made for semester one. After January 15th no changes will be made for semester two. Once classes begin each semester, students will not be able to drop any courses so careful consideration of course selection is necessary.

Developing a master schedule for the high school, insuring that students get the courses they have selected, is a major undertaking. Please realize that teacher requests, as well as semester requests, cannot be honored.

COLLEGE PLANNING NIGHT FOR STUDENTS AND PARENTS

On Tuesday, March 23, 2010 from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the High School Multi Media Center, Guidance Counselors will provide a workshop on the College Planning Process. All parents and students interested in gaining valuable knowledge on college planning and selection, a time line on when things should be done, and an overview of how counselors work with students on career and college planning are welcome to attend. Representatives from the following college admissions offices will be available to share information and address questions: Corning Community College, Bucknell University, SUNY Cortland, and SUNY Delhi.

Mark your calendars now!

CAMPUS VISITS

As spring approaches, Juniors give serious thought to future plans. As families plan for Spring Break, Counselors would like to encourage college campus visits. Each college campus has a spirit which cannot be captured in publications, and it is essential for students to have the opportunity to get first-hand information regarding programs, campus life, and admissions criteria as they narrow their choices.

Students, plan the visit in advance - call or email ahead for an appointment with the Director of Admissions and a tour. Also, if you want an appointment with a professor in your major, or a coach, ask an admissions representative about setting up a meeting for you. If you are interested in financial aid, also set up a meeting with a Financial Aid Counselor.

The best visits are when school is in session. Meet and talk with students and faculty. Include your parents on campus visits. During your visit - know what to look for, take notes for later reference, and pay attention and ask questions.

QUESTIONS TO ASK ADMISSIONS REPRESENTATIVES:

- Discuss your major(s) and ask what careers people have gone into with that major from that college.
- Verify admissions requirements (SAT I/ACT scores and high school course work). Does the college require the SAT II Subject Tests?
- Does the college have an active Career Center to help you prepare for a successful job search after graduation?
- Are internships in your major arranged for sometime during college years? (Does the Career Center or major department set up internships?)

- What help is available if you have trouble with any of your subjects? (i.e., in Resource Centers, peer tutors, or professors offering help)?
- Will you have access to computers on campus?
- What is the typical class size?
- What intramural or intercollegiate sports are available?
- Ask for a school calendar and catalog, if you don't already have them.

QUESTIONS TO ASK A FINANCIAL AID COUNSELOR:

- Determine college costs (including all fees and any additional costs beyond tuition and room/board).
- Ask about financial aid opportunities, as well as forms required and deadlines.

QUESTIONS TO ASK A STUDENT OR TOUR GUIDE:

- Ask about the general academic environment and the study commitment necessary for success.
- Ask to see the Library. Does it provide adequate resources?
- What are the professors like? Caring? Friendly? Aloof? Demanding? Available for helping students?
- Find out what student activities (i.e., clubs, organizations, intramural, sororities, fraternities, etc.) are available.
- What is the student "atmosphere" like on campus? Friendly, relaxed, competitive, pressured?
- What is the social atmosphere like? What percent of students join sororities/fraternities?
- Do social functions center around dorms or activities on campus? Do many students go home most weekends?
- What is done to provide campus safety?
- What are the dorm/residence options? Do most students live on campus? Are there singles, doubles, or suites available for all students?
- Investigate transportation options.

YOUR CAMPUS INTERVIEW:

- An interview should be included in your campus visit, if possible.
- Make an appointment and be on time.
- Your interviewer is looking for certain qualities:
- Be neat in appearance.
- Smile - exhibit self-confidence.
- Maintain eye contact with the interviewer - don't be shy.
- Speak up - nothing will hurt you more than being misunderstood.
- Ask questions.
- Listen closely to questions asked.
- Your interviewer may ask you about:
 - Scholastic standing - grades, rank in class, SAT scores, etc.
 - Course work - past and present performance.
 - Extra-curricular activities - vocational, special interests, sports, non-academic
 - The "personal" you - be frank, honest, sincere.

The key to success in your interview is: know yourself and be yourself.**

HORSEHEADS HIGH SCHOOL GREENROOM PLAYERS

Already this year the Greenroom Players have had their Haunted Cabaret in October, the fall play, The Fantasticks in November, a trip to New York City in December, and the Variety Show in January. In addition, Greenroom Players officers and club members gift wrapped during the holiday break at Barnes and Noble; donations acknowledging their gift wrapping skills help fund the Tim Howell Memorial Drama Scholarship and the upcoming spring musical, MAME which will be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 18, 19, and 20 at 7 p.m. in our beautiful high school auditorium. For those of you who are not familiar with the show or the title character, Mame Dennis Burnside, allow us to fill you in on this character and her colorful life during the 1920s, 30s, and into the 1940s.

Act I begins with the flamboyant, devil-may-care Mame Dennis (Camryn Brown) in her penthouse apartment in New York City giving a big party for a holiday that she herself created when, unexpectedly, Mame's nephew, Patrick (Bruce Eskesen) and his nanny, Agnes Gooch (Claire Blaney) arrive because Mame's late millionaire brother left Patrick in the care of his auntie Mame. Mame decides to enroll Patrick in Ralph Devine's (Will Gfeller) "Laboratory of Life," a very non-traditional school, but when Dwight Babcock (Justin Sun), the estate's trustee, finds out about Patrick's liberal education, he takes custody of Patrick and tries to raise him as a stuffy American aristocrat.

At this time Mame gets a phone call and learns from M. Lindsay Woolsey (Ben Poppleton) that the stock market crashed and has left her broke so she has no money to hire a lawyer to get Patrick back. Vera (Janaye Poteat), Mame's dramatic friend, offers Mame a small role as The Man in the Moon in her newest operetta about a lady astronomer. Of course, Mame has trouble delivering her one line and causes the play to be a disaster. Meanwhile, Patrick, who was in the audience, reassures Mame that she is not a failure. So Mame continues working several different jobs including manicurist where she meets Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside (Zach Crowle), a rich southern gentleman who has dozens of oil wells. It seems to be love at first sight; however, Mame ruins Beau's nails, gets fired, and is upset that she cannot pay JaJa (Marcus Herndon), her butler and Agnes Gooch. Both Agnes and JaJa assure Mame that they are there to stay. Meanwhile, Beau, finally finds Mame's house and invites everyone to dinner.

Since it is obvious that Beau and Mame are "meant for each other," Beau brings Mame and Patrick to his plantation in Peckerwood, Georgia where they are immediately greeted by family friend, Sally Cato (Whitney Williams), Mother Burnside (Kylie Smith), Cousin Fan (Josh Filson) and Cousin Jeff (Connor Davis) who are not happy that Beau is marrying a "Yankee." Sally invites Mame to a foxhunt where Mame accidentally wins the fox and the approval of Beau's family and friends.

In Act II, Mame and Beau go on an "extended" honeymoon, traveling all over the world. Meanwhile, Patrick goes from a young child to a college student when he hears about the avalanche in the Alps that kills Beau. Mame returns home and is reunited with a now grown Patrick who is dating a very snobby girl, Gloria Upson (Tess Eustace). At the same time, Mame and Vera decide to give the uptight, frumpy Agnes Gooch a makeover and send her out in the world to live because "Life is a banquet and most poor suckers are starving to death." Agnes leaves to live life and returns six months later visibly pregnant.

Patrick is ashamed to have Gloria's parents visit Mame, so he arranges for Mame to visit Claude (Jacob Esty) and Doris Upson (Morgan Troia) at their home, "Upson Downs." Mame discovers that the Upsons are opposed to "the wrong kind of people" living next to them, so they want to purchase the property adjoining theirs for a wedding present for Patrick and Gloria. Mame confronts Patrick about her disdain for the Upsons, and calls Patrick a snob when he admits that he is ashamed of her and her “crazy” friends. Mame and Patrick apologize and the Upsons are invited to Mame’s townhouse where Pegeen (Abbey Fortier) renews her acquaintance with Patrick whom she has known since the Laboratory of Life School. The Upsons tell Mame that the property they wanted has been sold; Mame reveals that she purchased the land so she could build the Beauregarde Burnside Memorial Home for Single Mothers. This is the final straw, and the Upsons leave, angry that Mame isn’t “one of them.” Patrick realizes the true nature of the Upsons and the altruism of his Auntie Mame.

Years later, Patrick and Pegeen arrive at Mame’s townhouse only to discover that their young son, Peter (Ryan Stryker) wants to go on a trip to India with Mame. Patrick and Pegeen resist at first, but Peter quotes Mame’s “life is a banquet” line and they soon realize that Mame has not changed and they allow Peter to travel with his Auntie Mame.

Come and enjoy the show! Reserved seating is available. Call the Box Office beginning Monday, March 1st -- 739-5601 ext 1780.

Once again, we ask that you remember the drama club is self-supported. The receipts from the performances pay for each production. These expenses include scripts, scores, royalties, props, sound, lighting, costumes, makeup, set design/construction/painting/decorating, publicity, tickets, choreography, and other special needs. The club also funds the Tim Howell Memorial Drama Scholarship. So, if you are interested in becoming a patron, it is half price now; send your $25 check and we will give you two show tickets and list you in the program. Make the check out to the HHS Drama Club c/o Horseheads High School Greenroom Players, 401 Fletcher Street, Horseheads, NY 14845. Be sure to tell us how you want to be listed in the program.
